Mr. M. W. Owen will spend next week at Dawson.

W. T. Cooper and H. C. Moore went to Cerulean yesterday.

Mrs. F. W. Dabney and child returned from Nashville Tuesday.

Sam'l Hodgson, of Clarksville, spent Wednesday in the city on business.

Mrs. W. J. Hopson, of Canton, visited her sister, Mrs. Lucien Jones, this week.

Mrs. Alex Campbell and little son, Alex, Jr., are visiting at Dr. J. P. Peyton's, near Casey.

Miss Olive Allison, of Earlington, returned home after a pleasant visit to Miss Lucy McDaniel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown, of Central Kentucky, are visiting Mr. J. D. Russell's family. Mr. Brown is Mrs. Russell's brother.

CREAM OF NEWS.

Tired of Life.

Henry Veth, the shoemaker at 201 1/2 South Main street, attempted to leave the earth by the morphine route Wednesday afternoon. He has been drinking heavily of late and finally made up his mind that he could not stop and that he would kill himself. He announced his intention to several parties and went to Leavell's drug store and called for a grain of morphine. Seeing that he was drunk, the druggist gave him 1/4 of a grain. This he took and bidding his friends good-bye went up to his shop and lay down on a cot to die. Policeman Twyman went up to look into the matter and Veth told him to give all his effects to Herman Shultz and to have the city to bury him, as he had paid enough fines for the city to give him a decent burial. He soon went to sleep and woke up sober the next morning and has recovered his determination to die.

Geological and Agricultural Cabinet.

The Commercial Club has determined to form a collection of the different ores, minerals, soils, and useful woods of all kinds belonging to this county and section, and place them in a neat cabinet, properly labeled, in its room, for the inspection and information of all persons interested in the purchase and development of mines, stone-quarries and other industries. The idea is a good one and if carried out will be of the highest advantage to men of capital and enterprise. It will be an encyclopedia of information for those who are hunting points of investment, as it will supply in a few hours information concerning various localities which could be obtained only by expensive and laborious personal exploration. Contributions of valuable specimens of minerals, building stones and woods are desired from all who can furnish them.

The Clarksville Muddle.

The trouble at Clarksville between jailer C. W. Station and Judge C. W. Tyler is still unsettled. The Supreme Court has ordered Station's release from jail. Judge Tyler has ordered the arrest of the deputy jailer Joe Station, for failing to release Vanvaver, the prisoner over whose detention all the trouble was caused. The jail commissioners have removed the jailer and have in turn been enjoined from filling the vacancy for five days. In the meantime the whole matter is before the Supreme Court at Jackson. New questions are arising daily and the matter has already reached a stage both ridiculous and disgraceful.

Covered by Insurance.

The residence of Wm. Lacey, in the village of Kirkmanville, near the county line between Wilson's district and Todd county, was totally destroyed by fire one day last week. The house and contents were fully insured in one of Callis & Wallace's companies. Mr. H. D. Wallace went to Kirkmanville one day this week and adjusted the losses. Mr. Lacey is a brother of Mrs. N. M. Orleans, of this city.

The Universalist Meeting.

Mrs. Gibbs, wife of the pastor of the Universalist church, arrived this week and has been assisting her husband in a series of meetings, since Tuesday night. She is a fluent, cultured speaker and thoroughly entertains an audience. She will preach to-night and to-morrow night and assist in the dedication of the new church Sunday. Mrs. Gibbs is at present pastor of a church in Illinois.

Caught "Crapping."

Jim Barker, Tom Terrell, Tom Weston and Henry Orndoff, all colored, were caught by the police yesterday while engaged in a game of craps and all of them looked up. Their trial will come up at 9 o'clock to-morrow.

The Trigg Election.

The primaries in Trigg to nominate a candidate for the Legislature show a badly mixed contest. The race is nip and tuck between Wharton and Campbell. The convention comes off to-morrow or Monday.

Tobacco Sales.

Next week's tobacco sales will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday. The sales are moved up one day so as not to conflict with the races Thursday.

Marriage Licenses.

James H. Bradshaw to Nancy L. Hane.

John W. Carmine to Mary L. Hurst.

Revs. Bruner and Barrett, two young Baptist preachers from Russellville, have been conducting a meeting at Lafayette since last Sunday.

The L. & N. will sell round trip tickets to Decatur, Ala., for one fare on the 28th and 29th, good till June 1st, on account of the industrial opening there.

Christian county was represented in the Louisville Republican Convention by A. H. Anderson, J. P. Prouse, John Feland, Jr. and Ed Glass, col.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wood and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howe composed a fishing party who went to Harp's bridge yesterday.

With suitable weather the races next week are sure to draw large crowds every day. The directory is springing no effort to insure the success of the meeting.

The various coal dealers of the city have submitted sealed bids for the asylum contract for the ensuing year. The bids will be opened and the contract awarded June 4.

Dr. Young's lecture at the Methodist church last night was largely attended, judging from the number of tickets sold. We went to press too early to notice this week.

The drought has not yet been ended in the Bainbridge neighborhood. There has been scarcely enough rain to lay the dust, though other sections of the county have been enjoying good rains.

The trial of W. D. Hawkins, V. H. Kennedy and others, at Pembroke Monday, resulted in the acquittal of all the parties. They were charged with whittawing Randall Mc-Nichols, col.

Frank Watts will sell his interest in the grocery business at Bell, Ky., to his partner, Ed Cross, and locate where he will do a general merchandise business.

The opening ball at Cerulean Springs was to be held last night. An excellent band was engaged to make music and a grand time was in all probability had. This city was well represented.

Col. A. H. Clark delivered a lecture at the Universalist church Monday night on the subject of "Ingratitude." A large audience attended, notwithstanding the threatened inclemency of the weather.

After this week the Kickapoo Indians will take their departure. The company of which they are a part has been here for about a month and has sold large quantities of the Indian medicine the company is advertising.

About the first of June is the time to bag your young grapes in order to protect them from insects and make the bunches fill out perfectly. Call at this office and supply yourself with bags. In bundles of 500, 50 to 75 cents.

The bottle of "Sagwa" offered by the Kickapoo Medicine Co. to the homeliest man present was awarded to Fred Tappan. The silver cup given to the prettiest young lady on the ground was very properly and appropriately bestowed.

There have been three hail storms in the county since the drought ended. The first was at Beverly, the second at Crofton and the last at Casey and Pembroke. The first was very damaging to crops, but the other two were without bad results.

The Spring races at the Driving Park will begin next Thursday the 30th inst. and the large number of horses already entered give assurance of a splendid meeting. A large crowd each day is confidently expected.

SHE DIED FOR LOVE.

Miss Esie Fowler Kills Herself With a Rifle on Account of a Love Affair.

Late Tuesday afternoon, at the residence of George Smith, ten miles from town, on the Rottenmilk road, Miss Esie Fowler committed suicide with a rifle.

Miss Fowler was about 18 years of age. She made her home at Mr. L. M. Hamby's, whose daughter married Geo. Smith and she was on a visit to Mrs. Smith when the tragedy occurred. Without giving any warning of her intentions and without being observed, the girl took a rifle and went out into the yard and deliberately shot herself through the heart. The family rushed out at the report of the gun, but when they reached her she was dead.

The cause assigned is the old story of being crossed in love. It is said Miss Fowler was engaged to be married to Bradley Hamby, a son of L. M. Hamby, and a brother of Mrs. Smith's. The young man's parents opposed the match on account of the boy's youth, as he was but 18 years old. Mrs. Hamby had sent the girl over to her daughter's to get her away from the boy and afterwards sent her clothes also. The affair weighed so heavily upon the mind of the girl that she took her own life to end her troubles.

The following additional details are furnished by our reliable and accurate correspondent at Crofton:

For some time she had been making her home with Mr. "Tode" Hamby, and his son, Bradley, and she had been making arrangements to marry. Mr. and Mrs. Hamby learning of her intentions, raised objections, but after reflection consented for them to marry. Miss Fowler then went over to stay with Mr. Smith a few days.

She called at Mr. Hamby's Tuesday morning and in conversation with Mrs. Hamby, the latter told her that she objected to her son's marrying as he was too young, but that she had no objection to her as a lady. She returned to Mr. Smith's that morning and late in the afternoon told Mrs. Smith she could lie down, that she would attend to her baby, and when Mrs. Smith fell asleep she took the gun and went out in the yard near one of the out-houses, where she fired the fatal shot using a tobacco stick. She was said to be a fine domestic girl and gained the friendship of all those with whom she associated.

The Floor Gave Way.

The floor of South Union Church, at Church Hill, gave down from the weight of the crowd at a school exhibition given by Prof. J. B. Fitzhugh's school Wednesday night. The house was packed to its utmost capacity, the aisles and all other available space being filled by persons unable to obtain seats. Suddenly without warning the entire floor gave way and fell to the ground a distance of two feet. The building was violently shaken, the windows rattled, stove pipes fell, benches were overturned, the women screamed, children cried and a general pandemonium ensued, but nobody was hurt, and after a good deal of confusion, quiet was restored and the exercises went ahead. At the time the accident occurred Mrs. John Blankenship was enjoying a nap against the wall and woke up yelling "earthquake!" The band composed of Messrs. Arthur Henry, Dick Peace, Dr. Anderson and Dr. Burgess was playing at the time. The reporter was unable to learn what place the musicians were rendering. But for the fact that the music was in a church, the supposition would be that they were entrancing the audience with an exciting "break down."

The damage to the church was about $100 or more.

J. W. River.

The races and College Commencements next week will draw many visitors to the city and they will see Hopkinsville at her very best. The streets are clean, many of the houses are nicely shaded, the yards are all green and the grass nicely clipped, fresh paint is everywhere to be seen and above all there is an air of business about the crowds on the streets that the city should be glad to have strangers see.

Hol For Church Hill.

For many years the annual stock sales of Church Hill Grange have been events towards which the public has looked with pleasurable anticipation. Here the good grangers and their families gather and invite their friends from everywhere to come and eat, drink (ice water) and be merry with them. There is always a big crowd, but there is no instance recorded where there was not enough dinner and to spare, for all who were there. Today one of these pleasurable occasions came off and Hopkinsville and the surrounding country will be almost depopulated and there will be anywhere from 2,000 to 3,000 people at Church Hill. The usual stock sales will be held and the grangers will guarantee a pleasant time to all who may attend. The KENTUCKIAN is something of a granger itself, and will be on hand with blank receipts enough to accommodate all its friends inside and outside the fraternity.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectively on the kidneys, liver and bowels; preventing fevers, headaches, and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Dedication.

The new Universalist church edifice in Hopkinsville, Ky., will be formally dedicated, with appropriate services, on Sunday, May 25, 1889. You are cordially invited to be present and to give this notice as wide a circulation as may be convenient. Ample provision for entertainers, who may attend.

Polk Casselman, J. G. Horn, J. W. Yancy, Committee.

New Conductors.

The L. & N. has put on the following new men to take the places of the conductors discharged on this division: A. Winstinger, Geo. Wolf, Geo. White and Capt. Zapp on the through trains, with C. L. Wood and H. D. Cole retained. On the Providence branch, James Lemons. On the Hopkinsville and Nashville accommodation, Wm. Hoskins, of Earlington promoted from freight conductor, on the Shawneetown branch, Ben F. Sanders. No changes have been made on the C. & P. branch.

City Court News.

Perry Vinson, col., forgery, waived examination and held over till next grand jury meets.

Tom Hopkins, drunkenness, sent to work house for 5 days.

Wm. Coburn, drunkenness, fined $5 and costs.

This is a delightful season of the year. Strawberries, cherries, and gooseberries in the way of fruits, and peas, snap beans, potatoes, beets, radishes, lettuce, onions, and other articles too numerous to mention in the vegetable line are now plentiful. Spring chickens are getting cheap and even the butcher shops are beginning to handle fat and juicy meats. The new wheat crop will soon cheapen breadstuffs and a good time generally seems to be coming on.

Judge Joe McCarrill has been elected by the district conference a delegate to the Louisville annual conference of the Methodist church, which meets at Morganfield next September. Three other delegates were elected, viz: H. K. Taylor, J. B. Jackson and Frank E. Lewis.
